

My Story

"I don't want to go to school today." "I don't know how to read."

"Math is too hard." Do any of these phrases sound familiar to you?

They certainly do to me! As parents, we want the best for our children and it can be heart-breaking watching your child struggle in school.

Being a teacher is my passion, and this is why in addition to teaching full-time, I've decided to start my own tutoring business on the side. I love teaching so much that I want to keep on teaching in my spare time! It's my goal for your children to feel comfortable and have fun as they learn, while building their confidence.

I must admit, however, being an educator has not always been my passion. For many years I worked as a child and youth worker in group homes, in open and secure custody with young offenders, and with developmentally challenged adults and youth. Once I began working as an educational assistant, my passion to become a teacher was sparked!

While working 7 days a week at 2 different jobs, I decided to go back to university to earn my teaching degree. All-in-all, it took 11 years of part-time studies while learning French. Over this time period, I had 2 children, went through 2 surgeries, dealt with the passing of my grandmother and father yet, here I am! I was able to reach my goal of becoming a teacher with the support of my family. Sometimes, we need a little help to reach our goals, and I'm here to help your child reach theirs!
